

SUNSET CLIFFS – BI-ANNUAL REPORT

1/31/2013

Sunset Cliffs – A subsidiary of WestMarch

Sunset Cliffs is the southernmost realm in WestMarch and is entrusted with reporting data to the upper provinces.

Sunset Cliffs – Bi-Annual Report

AMTGARDERS – WITH STYLE

Sunset Cliffs | History and Purpose

Sunset Cliffs was founded to provide a tab on the map of California showing full coverage of the state. “We want a full showing across the entire state! Blargh give me more beef!” (Claimed a random Knighted barbarian at an important WestMarch meeting.) The southernmost warriors obliged. Made up of a scout, a bard, a suicidal wizard, and an archer, the stronghold (I use stronghold in the weakest words) was created. Life was good, outside of having to beat back the random invasion from primitive Belegarth natives to the territory, trouble was minimal (more annoying than anything else). The Larp Realm was controlled by SC and life was good. The beer literally flowed like wine. As most border towns at the edge of a teeming peaceful ocean, trouble was minimal, but this was San Diego and we always kept in the back of our minds; “Summer is coming.”

Sunset Cliffs | Current Activity

Sunset Cliffs is currently making their primary showings at renaissance and pirate faires throughout Southern California. We participate in Faires as far north as Long Beach and as far south as (duh) San Diego. We have been showcased in the past 6 months in the San Diego Union Tribune, the North County Times, as well as local channels 8 and 6 (CBS / NBC Affiliates). At these events (Currently at 8 weekends a year) we interact with patrons with boffer combat and all interested parties we provide information on how they can partake in the sport we love. In this case it’s directing them to Siar Geata in San Diego for Amtgard and Andor in San Diego for Belegarth. We also have been raiding Belegarth on Sundays from time to time to get our foam fix.

Sunset Cliffs | Future Goals and Plans

The former Sheriff and founder of Sunset Cliffs has taken off on a dangerous and epic quest involving a motorized horse with a fellow gang of adventurers, naught to be seen for quite some time. The mantle has fallen to a new crew of miscreants;

Sheriff: Lord Milan of Amber – Bard of Westmarch Milan@cup-n-coin.com

Regent: Lady Tweak; Master Scout of Westmarch

Champion: Barbarian Wallace, Scotsman of Sunset Cliffs

Duty is rarely provided in a manner that people are prepared for and in this case, tradition holds true. However, moving forward you may see some positive movement in a manner that befits the respectable leadership that has shown many kindnesses to Southern California. (Except Deimos, he's an evil git). However, the requirements of a Shire are not hard to maintain and you should expect to see a future that involves the requirements. Bards are annoying. We get what we want.

Sunset Cliffs | Sign in Sheets and Recruitment posters

Bard's don't do paperwork. That's scribes. Ask someone else.

Sunset Cliffs | Conclusion

You should pass our audit. I have blackmail;

Sunset Cliffs | Ledger

